"May their souls be bound up in the bond of eternal life"

My Dear Friends;

Hamakom yinachem etchem... May you be comforted by God among all who are grieving in Zion and Jerusalem.

These ancient words are recited to mourners at the outset of Shiva as our spiritual intention moves from the dead to the bereft. When the souls of our loved ones depart from our physical world and become one with the Eternal, we often feel the depths of loneliness which is measured in the strength of our love.

In Judaism, the concept of Zachor, "Memory" is the providence of time and is actualized through our deep feelings of love, loyalty, and devotion to those who have left this earth. Memory enables the spiritual connection we so desperately need when we are no longer able to see those who we love with our eyes or hear their voices with our ears. Memory consists of a tapestry of "snapshots" of our shared experiences and holds the deepest emotional connection so as to enable them to become part of us as we continue our own journeys here in this world.

Today, we remember by word and by deed. We ask God for permission to keep a watchful eye on their souls that they might be "bound up in the bonds of Eternal Life." Most of all, we commit ourselves to live our own lives as they would have wanted us to – with joy, health, strength, and peace.

May the souls of all our loved ones be sustained by our love and protected under the wings of the Shechinah. May their memories be a blessing to us, l'dor va'dor, and for the generations yet to come.

L'Shalom,
Rabbi Stephen Kahn
Congregation Beth Israel

Psalm 23

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures;
He leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul;
He guideth me in straight paths for His name's sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death,
I will fear no evil.
For Thou art with me;
Thy rod and Thy staff, they comfort me.
Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies;
Thou hast anointed my head with oil; my cup runneth over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life;
And I shall dwell in the house of the Lord forever.

Silent Remembrance

יִזְכּוֹר אֱלֹהִים נַשְׁמוֹת יְקִירֵי.....שְׁהֶלְכוּ
לְעוֹלָמָם. אָנָּה תְהִינָה נַפְשׁוֹתֵיהֶם צְרוּרוֹת
בְּצִוּוֹר הַחַיִּים וְתִהְיֶה מְנוּחָתָם כְּבוֹד. שְׁבַע
שְׂמֵחוֹת אֶת-פְּנֵיךְ, נְעִימוֹת בִּימִינְךָ נֹצֵחַ. אָמֵן.

May God remember forever my dear ones who have gone to their eternal rest. May they be at one with the One who is life eternal. May the beauty of their lives shine for evermore, and may my life always bring honor to their memory.

“The Lord gives; the Lord takes away; Blessed be the name of the Lord”

Early or late, all must answer the summons to return to the Reservoir of Being. For we lose our hold on life when our time has come, as the leaf falls from the bough when its day is done. The deeds of the righteous enrich the world, as the fallen leaf enriches the soil beneath. The dust returns to the earth, the spirit lives on with God.

Like the stars by day, our beloved dead are not seen by mortal eyes. Yet they shine on forever; theirs is eternal peace.

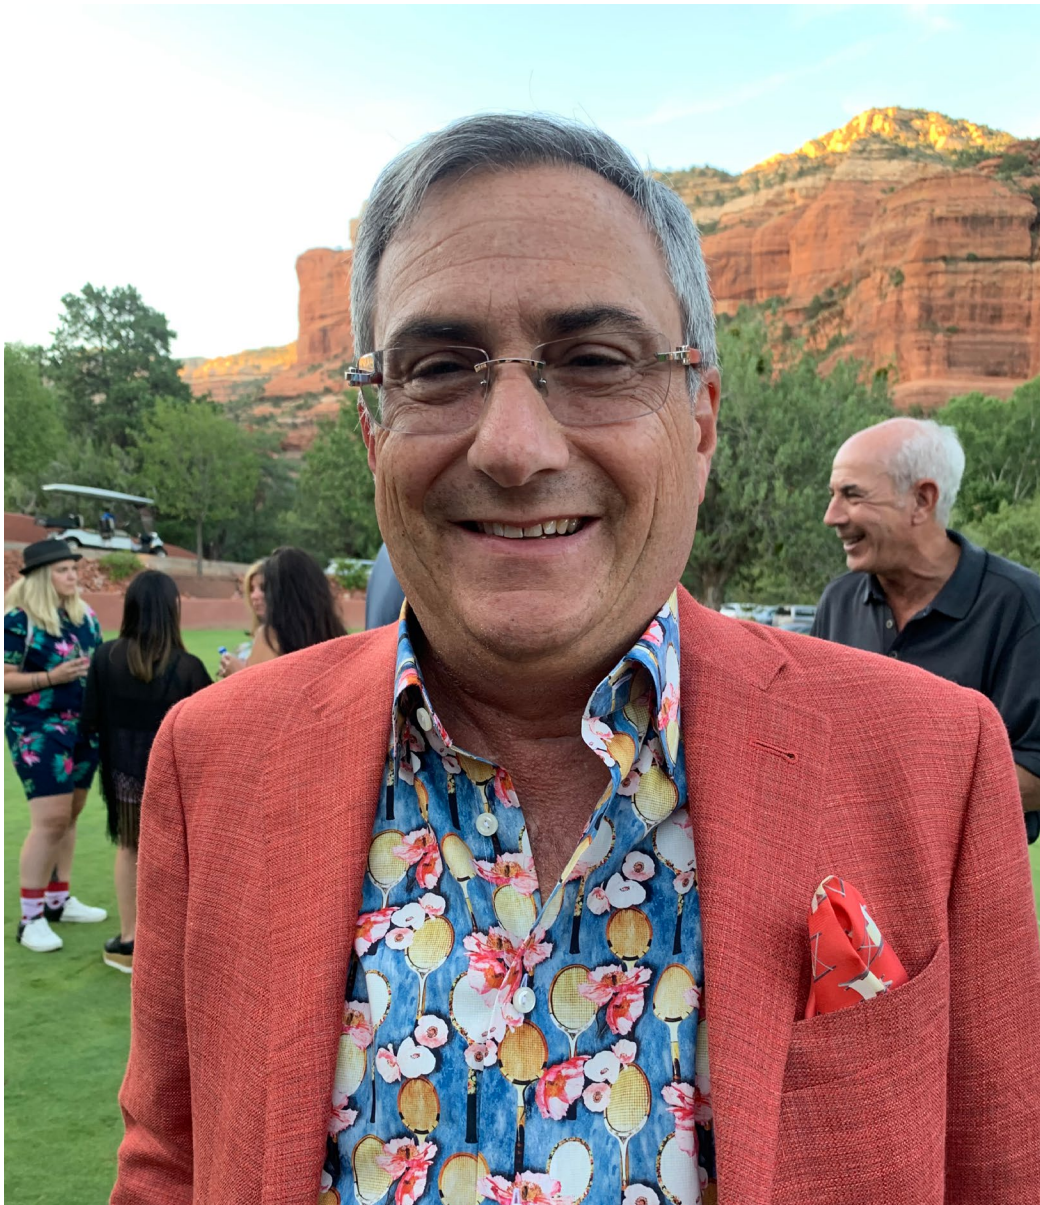

Let us be thankful for the companionship that continues in a love stronger than death. Sanctifying the name of God, we do honor to their memory.

“the Lord has given,
the Lord has taken away”
...during the past year
